This project is an initiative of the Asia Pacific Coalition for Male Sexual Health (APCOM) and in partnership with Fridae to aggregate organizational information on different groups, NGOs, and institutions in Asia that provides HIV/AIDS prevention, treatment, care and support services, including stigma reduction advocacy, for men who have sex with men and transgenders. The project began in March 2010 and it covers five countries in Insular Southeast Asia - Brunei Darussalam, Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, and Timor Leste.

Acknowledgement

This study undertaken by APCOM in partnership with Fridae to aggregate organizational information on different groups, NGOs and institutions in Insular Southeast Asia -Brunei Darrusalam, Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, and Timor Leste.

We are thankful to both Fridae and Mr. Jonas Bagas for their support and contribution.

APCOM

The Asia Pacific Coalition on Male Sexual Health

APCOM was specifically formed as a coalition of community, government, donor sector representatives, along with UN agencies, to strongly advocate regionally and globally for increased investment in line with the need, scale up of MSM HIV intervention programming and increased coverage, research to address gaps in knowledge, and the promotion of individual rights for MSM and transgender people across the Asia Pacific region.

Launched at the 8th ICAAP, Colombo, Sri Lanka in 2007, and arising from the 2006 Asia Pacific consultation meeting on male sexual health, held in New Delhi, India, APCOM, as a community-led institution, represents the forefront of the challenges and responses to HIV among MSM and transgenders in the Asia Pacific region, strongly advocating for increased investment, scaling up coverage of comprehensive HIV services, and addressing stigma, discrimination and social exclusion of MSM and transgenders across the region.

Guiding Principles

The work of the Asia Pacific Coalition on Male Sexual Health will be guided by the following principles, which have been adapted from the Guiding Principles of the Global Forum on MSM and HIV/AIDS:¹

- Enabling environment. The inter-related co-factors for HIV risk, vulnerability, and disparities in access to care, treatment and prevention education, coupled with social discrimination and individual rights issues, have a common basis in the significant lack of services and coverage faced by MSM and transgenders. We believe that an enabling environment is the key to the health and well-being of MSM, transgenders, and their families.
- Evidence informed: MSM and transgender HIV prevention, treatment, care and support, and programmes and policy should be guided by a nuanced understanding based on evidenced scientific information.
- Strength-based. Programmatic and policy responses often frame HIV in negative ways and stigmatise MSM and transgenders; we believe that effective responses to the HIV epidemic directed at MSM and transgenders must acknowledge and build upon the strengths, competencies, and resources that such persons possess.
- Affirming sexualities and acknowledging sexual behaviours at risk. We believe that the reality of sexualities, gender expression, and the risks involved in certain sexual behaviours need open acknowledgement. All MSM and transgenders have the right to healthy and fulfilling sex lives and to access community driven HIV interventions prevention, treatment, care and support - free from judgement and persecution. There needs to be a healthy and productive relationship between the communities and governments, based on mutuality of respect, positive involvement and open flow of information.
- Community driven interventions. Self-organizing and open participation in the provision of appropriate HIV prevention, treatment, care and support, services for MSM and transgenders is important in our work to end HIV. We believe in supporting and respecting self-determination and self-initiated HIV programmatic and policy responses.
- Involvement. There must be greater involvement of MSM and transgender, including HIV positive MSM and transgender people, in programme planning and policy development arenas. There must also be equal support and participation by governments, funders, and technical experts. We believe that HIV programme and policy responses are strengthened by ensuring inclusion, parity and representation.

¹http://www.msm-aids2006.org/documents/conceptnote_18aug06.pdf

- Resources. There is an urgent need to significantly increase investment, funding, capacity, and technical assistance and support for HIV programming directed at MSM and transgenders. At a minimum, we believe that funding should be at a level commensurate with the impact left by HIV on these groups as compared to the general population.

Area of emphasis

The Coalition devotes itself to fostering, supporting and sharing information about:

- Country-level, sub-regional and regional action which raises awareness of MSM and transgender issues, and ensures that national, sub-regional and regional plans and strategies incorporate activities for MSM and transgenders, guarantees MSM and transgender representatives having a voice at policy setting forums, and mobilises expertise and financial resources.
- Evidence-based research and policy development to address critical knowledge gaps and to develop more responsive programme and policy recommendations.
- Advocacy through the establishment of effective partnerships with civil society organizations, government bodies, HIV organizations, academia and research organizations, and UN agencies.

INTRODUCTION: The HIV/AIDS epidemic among MSM/TGs in Asia

Asia has all the ingredients for a full-blown epidemic among men who have sex with men and transgenders. Evidence points to an increasing prevalence among MSM/TGs in many Asian countries. In many countries, evidence points to a sexual flip in the mode of transmission, with MSM/TGs becoming the face of the epidemic than heterosexuals. Response to the infection has been limited, as most countries, if not all, are constrained by poverty, repressive political conditions, impaired healthcare infrastructures, and obscurantist religions. Available services are therefore a result of external interventions.²

The Commission on AIDS in Asia warned that in Asia, a new wave of infections is imminent particularly among vulnerable groups, and that by 2020, 50% of new infections would come from the MSM/TG population.³

THE MAPPING PROJECT: Objectives and Methodology

Scaling up response in ISEAN countries necessitates baseline information on the scope of MSM/TG organizing in the region, as well the range of available HIV/AIDS services for MSM/TGs in said areas,

The project aims to:

1. Produce an organizational database of groups, community organizations, and institutions that provide HIV/AIDS services for MSM/TGs in their respective countries or territories, from prevention, treatment, care and support to stigma reduction advocacy work;
2. Aggregate findings on the state of preventive measures for MSM/TGs that are being implemented in the target countries and territories and identify the strengths and weaknesses of these responses, and;
3. Identify MSM/TG-related issues to present a general and qualitative analysis of situation of the community in their respective countries and cull needs for further action.

Online data-gathering is the main mode of data acquisition for the project. A questionnaire was initially sent to several organizations to collect data on the following areas: a) basic organizational profile, b) organizational activities/services on HIV/AIDS, and c) situational factors or conditions affecting the organization.

Key contacts from international or regional and national HIV/AIDS organizations and local academicians working directly with HIV/AIDS service providers and MSM/TG or lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender (LGBT) advocacy groups were likewise tapped as secondary sources of information.

KEY FINDINGS

Of the 99 organizations that were initially contacted for the database-building project, only 20% or 20 responded with complete information. The low response rate could be attributed to several factors: the language barriers between the investigator and the target groups, including the inaccessibility of non-English online sources; lack of information of APCOM, Fridae, or the investigator on the state of MSM/TG organizing in some countries, especially in areas where the society is hostile towards homosexuals or transgenders, and; limitations on resources that could facilitated a more direct appraisal of the situation.

To augment, alternative channels were explored through key contacts working directly with MSM/TG community organizations.

A total of 40 community organizations, NGOs, centers, advocacy groups that provide a range of HIV/AIDS services specifically for the MSM/TG community, from exclusively preventive measures or programs to a mix of preventive, support services and stigma reduction advocacy work, have been included in the database. Government providers of HIV/AIDS services have been excluded due to questions on their sensitivity to the situation of MSM/TGs, except in the case of public clinics or hospitals that serve as the main testing centers or treatment hubs for all.

Country / Territory	NGOs/Center/ Community-based organization	Treatment centers, clinics, or CBOs/ CSOs with referral services
Brunei Darussalam	0	One hospital with VCT and treatment facilities
Indonesia	16	9 CBO/CSO with referral services for VCT and/or treatment; 256 public clinics that provide VCT and 157 public hospitals that provide medical services, 153 of which are treatment hubs
Malaysia	10	List of 2813 government clinics that provide VCT are online; 1 CBO/CSO has referral services
Philippines	13	4 CBOs/CSOs have referral services for testing and treatment; 6 public hospitals that serve as treatment hubs
Timor Leste	1	1 CBO/CSO with referral services for testing

There appears to be no institution, NGO, community-based organization or hospital or clinic in insular Southeast Asia that can provide a comprehensive response or package of HIV and sexual health services and interventions for MSM/TGs.⁴

Furthermore, there is limited or no information on existing HIV/AIDS services for MSM/TGs in Brunei Darrusalam and Timor Leste, raising questions on the response being taken to address the issue in these areas.

1. On Prevention, Treatment, Care and support.

Community response is largely focused on prevention, with peer-led workshops, confidential discussions, online and on-site or venue-based outreach activities, hotlines and anonymous counseling, and the distribution of IEC materials and safer sex paraphernalia as the main forms of interventions.

These activities are mostly funded externally, raising questions on sustainability. There are also problems with organizational capabilities in light of the rise in infection, especially in the area of mobilizing the community and raising resources.

VCTs and ARVs can mostly be accessed through public hospitals or government-owned social hygiene clinics. While these facilities provide anonymous testing and are mainly the distribution network for ARVs, it is unclear whether they are sensitized to the situations of the MSM/TGs.

Preventive activities are oftentimes partnered with affirmative interventions for sexual minorities, especially on the issues of social acceptance, religion, and human rights.

2. Governance and participation.

Groups in Malaysia, Indonesia and the Philippines have indicated relatively programmatic interventions on policy advocacy. It has also been noted that collaboration with governmental bodies, whether in national HIV/AIDS institutions or local governments, exists, with the community organizations finding such engagements meaningful and effective.

Community organizing is strong in Indonesia and the Philippines, very minimal in Malaysia, and almost non-existent in Brunei Darussalam and Timor Leste. In all countries, discriminatory policies and practices, abusive law enforcers, and punitive laws and ordinance hinder community organizing.

In Indonesia and the Philippines, organizations affirm the importance of community organizing to strengthen the participation and engagement of MSM/TGs.

There is also difficulty in reaching out to vulnerable sub-groups of MSM/TGs, such as male or transgender sex workers, drug users, and sex workers. Transgender groups in Indonesia and the Philippines highlighted problems in involving the participation of transgenders.

3. On stigma reduction.

In all ISEAN countries, political repression, persecution by religious groups, and lack of social acceptance hinder the full inclusion of MSM/TGs in their respective national response and compromise the effectiveness of an already limited range of services. Male-to-male sex is prohibited explicitly in Malaysia and Brunei Darussalam, and while legal in Indonesia, the Philippines and Timor Leste, other laws or ordinances (in the case of Indonesia, Shariah ordinances) are used as tools for repression against MSM/TGs.

No legal protection for MSM/TGs exists in all ISEAN countries.

Ironically, the national response policies for HIV/AIDS in Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines and Timor Leste explicitly mention MSM/TGs. Correcting the dissonance in HIV/AIDS policies and MSM/TG-punitive laws or enforcement of laws appears to be a non-priority among ISEAN governments, which compromises their own national response policies and programs to combat HIV/AIDS. Various MSM/TG groups have identified this failure to harmonize national policies a major barrier towards prevention.

Faith-based stigma and lack of social acceptance have also been identified as a major issue in all ISEAN countries.

COUNTRY OBSERVATIONS

Country	General Observations
Brunei	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ There is no information on the presence of MSM/TG groups in Brunei ▪ Male-to-male sex is illegal ▪ There is only one hospital that provides treatment, but there is no information on the sensitivity of its services to the issues of the MSM community ▪ There is one known MSM/TG friendly doctor in the country ▪ Government provides HIV services to the general population and treatment is subsidized under this program
Indonesia	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ HIV prevalence for MSM/TG is 5.2% nationwide, or 23 times higher than the national prevalence ▪ Exclusion and increased vulnerability of warias (TGs) have been noted ▪ Male-to-male sex is legal, except in provinces where Shariah-based ordinances are imposed ▪ Government clinics that have been to provide VCT and public hospitals that are designated as treatment hubs provide services to all vulnerable and most-at-risk populations, but there is no information on their sensitivity to the issues and needs of the MSM community ▪ Community organizing among MSM/TGs is strong in the country ▪ Access to antiretrovirals is free in some public hospitals, supported through public funds and the Global Fund

Malaysia	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ HIV prevalence for MSM/TGsis 7%, or 17 times higher than the national figure ■ Legal barriers exist in the country: male to male sex is illegal; and Muslim MSM or TG face prosecution under Shariah law; TGs are often arrested for ‘indecent behavior’; sex on premises is prohibited, and; condoms are used as evidence for prostitution by the police ■ There is only one organization that implements preventive measures for MSM/TGs in the capital, Kuala Lumpur. The Malaysian Aids Council is actively trying to mobilize NGOs and CBOs in other states on the needs of MSM and TG issues ■ Collaboration between the MSM/TG group with the authorities is deemed effective ■ There are reports of exclusion by Transsexuals/TGs from existing initiatives due to social stigma, discrimination, and harassment from the police ■ A CSO/CBO with community centers provides referral services for VCT and treatment for MSM ■ Anonymous testing is provided for free in 2813 government clinics (The directory of government clinics or “KlinikKesihatan” is available online: http://moh.gov.my/gov_clinics). There is no information, however, on the sensitivity of these facilities to the issues and needs of the MSM community ■ Government provides HIV services to the general population and treatment is subsidized under this program
Philippines	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ HIV prevalence for MSM/TG is .99% nationwide, or 9 times less than the national prevalence ■ However, exponential increase in prevalence among MSM/TG in major urban areas, such as Metro Manila, Cebu and Davao, has been noted ■ Male to male sex is legal, but there is no anti-discrimination protection for LGBTs. Laws on vagrancy and sex work have impeded prevention efforts ■ Some CBOs/CSOs provide referral services for VCT and treatment for MSM. There is no information on the sensitivity of existing clinics and treatment hubs to the needs and issues of the MSM community ■ Condom use is low and STI prevalence among MSM is high ■ Testing is anonymous and free in social hygiene clinics. ARVs are available for free in select government hospitals till 2012 (due to the current Global Fund program)
Timor Leste	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Very little information on MSM/TG organizing; however MSM and TG volunteers are active in the national NGO providing HIV services to the general population ■ A CBO/CSO provides referral services for VCT ■ Attempts to include legal protection for sexual minorities in the Constitution were quashed ■ Government provides HIV services to the general population
